

Just as Certain as Death.

Nothing sure but death, is the way some men express it. Yet you are just as sure of your money in case of loss when insured with Hurt's Agency.

When Chicago burned down it bankrupted 100 fire insurance companies. Six companies in HURT'S AGENCY paid to the sufferers over SEVENTEEN MILLION DOLLARS.

Thirteen months later Boston burned down—These same six companies paid over Seven Millions more, and, in each case, arose from the ashes with higher credit than ever. His Companies have withstood the hot ordeal of all the great fires on this continent and never once has their names been dishonored.

TEA CARAVANS FROM CHINA.

The enormous business that is done on the caravan route through Siberia.

The newspaper published in Tomsk, called the Siberian Latest News, gives some very curious details about the Russian tea caravans that transport thousands of tons of tea from China and distribute it in various parts of Siberia and Russia. During the first 20 days of January last 19,000 sleighs laden with tea passed through the city of Tomsk. The ordinary size of these tea caravans is from 50 to 70 sleighs, though sometimes from 200 to 300 are included in one caravan. The average load is five bales, each weighing from 70 to 120 pounds.

Five sleighs are fastened together drawn by one horse, and one man attends to the detachment. To the rear sleigh of each group are tied a bundle of hay and a measure of oats, so that the horses may feed during the march. This facilitates progress, for the caravan does not need to halt for the purpose of baiting the horses. As the horse in front, however, does not have anything to eat before him his place in the caravan must be changed occasionally to give him an opportunity to eat his lunch.

The caravans travel night and day. The only halts during the 24 hours are in the villages where the weary horses are exchanged for fresh animals. The drivers sleep on the sleighs, while traveling, in spite of the severe cold.

POWER FROM A DISTANCE.

Southern California has the Most Notable Electric Transmission Plant in Existence.

To-day the most notable transmission plant in existence, says Cassier's Magazine, is that of the Southern California Power company, designed to carry 10,000 horse-power at 32,000 volts over 85 miles of line from the power house to the town of Los Angeles. The Southern California power house is situated at the base of the San Bernardino mountains, on the Santa Ana river, and the power water intake is at the junction of Bear creek and the Santa Ana river, about seven miles below the famous Bear creek dam. The water in this river, like all waters in southern California, is owned by water companies, and as soon as it reaches the valley it is led off in irrigation ditches in different directions. Under these conditions, any power company using the water must not interrupt the flow, and the regulation of the water wheels, which are used, must be by deflecting nozzles. The water is carried about 2 1/2 miles, 80 per cent. of which is through tunnels, and the rest of the canal is open masonry and wooden flumes. The elevation at the intake is 3,422 feet above sea level, and that of the power house 2,670 feet. The difference, less the grade of the canal, gives a static head of 755 feet on the wheels.

JUSTICE BY WIRE.

A Case in Kansas That Was Conducted Over the Long-Distance Telephone.

This country is right up to date in its legal methods, says the Abilene (Kan.) Reflector. Lately a warrant was issued from Chapman for the arrest of a party charged with assault and battery. The defendant heard of it, but was not arrested, keeping out of the way. He employed Senator Hessin, of Manhattan, to take care of the case for him. It was not a serious matter and the defendant was guilty. So Mr. Hessin called up on the long-distance telephone the justice of the peace in Chapman who had jurisdiction of the case and inquired if the case was pending, and learned that it was. He then called County Attorney Smith, at Abilene, who in turn called the justice into a conference. The result was that Mr. Hessin entered the appearance of the defendant at Chapman, 35 miles away, by phone; pleaded guilty for him by phone and the justice imposed a fine of five dollars and costs by phone, and Mr. Hessin remitted it by draft in afternoon mail. Presumably justice may be dispensed after awhile without court-houses or the formality of trials therein.

One day last week Mrs. Geo. Boston was superintending the boiling of some lard. She was standing close to a crock into which boiling lard had been strained, the crock burst, and the hot lard flew on one of Mrs. Boston's hands and arm, scalding them badly. The injury was a painful one, but Mrs. Boston is now relieved from pain and the injured member is doing nicely.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. That is exactly what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is. It is the mother's help when she is suddenly awakened in the night by the ominous husky cough, and labored breathing of her babe. It is the safe resort of the youth or adult who has "caught cold" and there is coughing and irritation of the mucous membrane of the throat. It allays the irritation and cures the cold. For sale by JOHN E. JACKSON.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. D. B. Gillespie for shooting White, at Springfield, last September has been called in the county court and continued until the second day of the December term. A motion for renewal of bail was resisted by Mr. A. S. Higginbotham, who represents the Commonwealth, and the motion is being argued at this writing. We suppose bail will be granted, as the case appears clearly to be one of self defence.

Married.

On the 22nd day of November, 1899, at 11 o'clock a. m., at the residence of the bride's father, at Witten's Mills, Miss Gertrude Stafford and Mr. Robert White were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. W. M. Stabler officiated.

On the 22nd day of November, 1899, at 4 o'clock p. m., at the residence of Mr. A. White, at Witten's Mills, Miss Josie White was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. James Stevens. Rev. W. M. Stabler performed the ceremony which made them man and wife.

OATH OF THE BOERS.

The Holy Covenant Which Binds Burglars of the Transvaal in Peace and War.

This peculiar solemn pledge was subscribed at a meeting held by them on April 12, 1879, in Wonderfontein, in the Transvaal, and is given as reproduced in the Natal Witness:

"In the presence of Almighty God, the Searcher of Hearts, and praying for His gracious assistance and mercy, we, burghers of the South African Republic, have solemnly agreed for us and our children to unite in a holy covenant, which we confirm with a solemn oath. It is now 40 years ago since our fathers left the Cape Colony to become a free and independent people. These 40 years were 40 years of sorrow and suffering.

We have founded Natal, the Orange Free State and the South African Republic (Transvaal), and three times has the English government trampled on our liberty, and our flag, baptized with the blood and tears of our fathers, has been pulled down. As by a thief in the night has our free republic been stolen from us. We cannot suffer this, and we may not. It is the will of God that the unity of our fathers and our love to our children should oblige us to deliver unto our children, unblemished, the heritage of our fathers. It is for this reason that we here unite and give each other the hand as men and brethren, solemnly promising to be faithful to our country and people, and, looking unto God, to work together unto death for the restoration of the liberty of our republic. So truly help us, God Almighty."

A BRITISH "TREAT."

An Englishman Who Treated His Guest Well, But Made Him Pay His Way.

"I was constantly struck," says Col. T. W. Higginson, "with the genuine spirit of hospitality among Englishmen toward Americans, as such, even those with whom Americans they might have almost nothing in common, and for whom they had not the slightest reason to put themselves out. I liked this none the less for its having its definite limitations as to pecuniary obligations, and the like, including everything in the nature of 'treating,' all this being, in my opinion, a weak point in our more gushing or more self-conscious habit. I remember to have once been taken by a gentleman, on whom I had but the slightest claim, to the country house of another, on whom I had no claim whatever. The latter was not at all literary, and had not even the usual vague English interest in American affairs; yet he gave up his whole afternoon to drive me to Kenilworth, which he had seen a thousand times. But that for which I liked him best, and which afforded me a wholly new experience, was that as we entered the outer doorway, he going first, looked back over his shoulder, and said simply: 'They make you pay, threepence for admission here,' and then added, speaking to the attendant: 'here is my threepence.' After all the time and trouble he had given to his stranger guest, he yet left him to pay his own threepence; a thing which most Americans would not have dreamed of doing. It would have been the American notion of good breeding to save a guest from expense, as it was the English impulse to save him from the sense of obligation. I confess that I prefer the latter method."—Atlantic.

House and Lot in the Town of Tazewell, Virginia.

By direction of the Old Dominion Building and Loan Association we will sell, on the premises, at public auction, on the 25th day of November, 1899, to the highest bidder, a certain lot or parcel of land, together with the building and other appurtenances thereto belonging, situated in the Town of Tazewell, Tazewell county, Virginia, on Railroad Avenue, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stake on Railroad Avenue northeast corner to the Bowen lot, with said Bowen lot and W. H. Price lot S. 36° 2' W. 312 feet to a stake in line with B. W. Strass lot, with same N. 16° 30' W. 54 feet to a stake with S. E. Hank lot N. 34° 15' E. 285 feet to a stake on S. W. side of Railroad Avenue, thence with said Avenue S. 28° 30' E. 57 1/2 feet to the beginning.

The said property will be sold by the undersigned as trustees in a certain deed executed by A. J. Crusey and Louisa Crusey, his wife, to secure the said Old Dominion Building and Loan Association in the payment of a certain sum of money, of which there is now due and unpaid $275.00, which said deed is dated 24th November, 1898, and is of record in the Clerk's Office of the County Court of Tazewell County in Deed Book No. 39, pages 289-91.

TERMS:—Cash sufficient to pay the balance of the debt, and the balance of this sale and the amount due the said Association, to-wit: $275.37 with interest from this date, balance upon a credit of six and twelve months.

J. TAYLOR ELLISON, GEO. W. ST. CLAIR, Trustees.
